'Our Father who art in heaven.' In these few words He to whom you are to pray has Himself granted you the theme of praying, the subject matter to ask for, and the norm of making petition. He made this grant that from it you might get the feel of praying, obtain an understanding of how to request, gather a measure of your petitioning, and take most ample training from this brief instruction on prayer; also, because as a token of love the King Himself has performed the function of an advocate, in order to dictate the prayers which He intends to answer. Every hesitation in asking has been taken away; yes, more, full confidence of meriting an answer has been given, since He who is being asked finds His very self in the prayers. -- St. Peter Chrysologus, To the Catechumens on the Lord's Prayer					1 THE CIRCUMCISION & NAME OF JESUS	2 Bl. Holst Acolyte: Zechariah	The very foundations of our faith give way under the processes which empty the Lord's Supper of its divine glory. The Sacramental Presence is the necessary sequel, the crowning glory, of the Incarnation and Atonement; and the illumination of the Holy Spirit in the word which enables the eye of faith to see God in the body, and redemption in the blood, enables it to see the body in the bread and the blood in the cup. -- C.
